NEW YORK CITY.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, January 22, 1869.

The jury in the case of Blaisdell, Eckel and McLaren, who have been on trial in the United States Circuit Court for the past few days, on a charge of defrauding the Internal Revenue, this evening rendered a verdict of guilty. The prisoners were remanded for sentence.

The Board of Health yesterday afternoon elected Dr. Elisha Harris Sanitary Superintendent in place of Dr. Dalton, who lately resigned.

The London Shipping Gazette of the 9th inst. says the brig Hannibal, Capt. Gyles, arrived at Liverpool, from Ceara, spoke the bark America, for New York, on the 30th of December in latitude 42 deg. 43 north longitude, 30 deg. 25 west, with thirty-eight of the shipwrecked crew and passengers of the steamer Hibernia on board. The account of Capt. Gyles is circumstantial, and there seems no doubt that another of the boats that left the ill-fated steamer has been fallen in with and the sufferers rescued. The New York Herald in copying the above expresses the belief that notwithstanding the recent statement per cable to the contrary, all the passengers and crew of the Hibernia are safe.

The steamer America, which left Bremen November 25th, has not yet reached here.

A fire occurred to-night at the book store of P. M. Haverty, publisher. Damage about $2,000; insured. Some rare old volumes were burned. The origin of the fire is unknown.

In the United States Circuit Court, McLaren, convicted of aiding and abetting Blaisdell and Eckel in the perpetration of whisky frauds, was strongly recommended to mercy by the jury.

HAVANA.

Vessels Seized for Carrying Supplies to Rebels—Passport Regulations Stringently Enforced.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HAVANA, January 22.—The government authorities have seized the coasting vessel Seis, from Hermanos, on suspicion of carrying supplies for the rebels. The Spanish officials here are enforcing the regulations concerning passports with great stringency. Passengers without passports are prohibited from embarking or landing. Travelers by steamers from United States ports are much annoyed by the delay caused by these precautions. They sometimes have been obliged to wait over five hours after steamers have arrived before they are permitted to land.

The Banco Del Commercio has resumed payment.

The revolutionary leaders having determined to move eastward, deceived Count Valmesada by opposing his march with a small force, while their main body commenced a move toward this city. It is reported the government has received a dispatch that the rebel General Quesada, with a large force, has arrived in the vicinity of Villa Clara, and steamers have been engaged to bring back the force of Count Valmesada.

Whelan, the Canadian Assassin, Refused a New Trial.

TORONTO, January 22.—The Whelan case was to-day before a full Court of Error, and the judges stood four for and six against granting a new trial. The prisoner's counsel applied for leave to appeal to the Privy Council of England, and after consultation the Court decided it had not the right or power to grant leave. The prisoner was ordered to be sent back to the Ottawa jail, and so far as the Canadian courts are concerned, the law will take its course. If a reprieve is not granted Whelan will be executed on the 11th of February.

FORTIETH CONGRESS.

[THIRD SESSION.]

SENATE: Resolution Against Railroad Subsidies Reported and Laid Over Under Objection—Proposed Land Grants for a Railroad from the Mississippi to Yancton—Bill to Authorize Mint Officers to Receive Refined Gold and Silver on Deposit—Discussion of Morton's Passenger Tax Bill—Resolution Reported Authorizing the Withholding of Pacific Railroad Bonds as Security for the Completion of the Several Lines—Sherman's Air Line Railroad Bill Further Considered—Bill to Regulate the Taking of Evidence in Contested Elections Finally Passed. HOUSE: Bill to Diminish Gold Fluctuations and to Provide for Return to Specie Payments—Denver Pacific Railroad and Telegraph Company Bill—Mr. Logan Modifies His Substitute—The Subject Deferred—Boutwell's Constitutional Amendment and Bill Relative to Suffrage to be Considered To-day.

WASHINGTON, January 22, 1869.

SENATE.

The PRESIDENT presented the credentials of James A. Bayard and Thomas F. Bayard, Senators elect from Delaware.

Mr. TRUMBULL, from the Committee on Judiciary, reported the House joint resolution providing for the disposition of certain papers relating to claims against the Department of the West, with amendments, which were adopted, after which the resolution was passed.

Mr. DRAKE, by unanimous instruction of the Committee on Pacific Railroad, reported and asked for immediate consideration of the resolution declaring it inadquate for Congress to authorize any subsidy in Government bonds to any railroad enterprise not entitled to it under existing laws.

Mr. EDMUNDS objected and the resolution went over.

Mr. POMEROY, from the Committee on Public Lands, reported a bill to grant lands to aid in the construction of a railroad from the Mississippi river to Yancton on the Missouri river, and to amend the act of May 12, 1864, granting lands to the State of Iowa to aid in the construction of a railroad in said State. It transfers the grant made by the above act for the benefit of the McGregor and Sioux City Railroad Company, and grants the latter Company two sections per mile to aid an extension of the line eighty miles further to Scranton.

Mr. POMEROY also reported back the bill to legalize certain land locations, which declares the provisions of the act of July 27, 1867, shall not apply to locations of Agricultural College scrip made by Registers and receipted for before the receipt of official notice of its passage.

Mr. STEWART introduced a bill relative to refining gold and silver bullion at the mint of the United States and branches, which was referred to the Committee on Appropriations. It authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury, whenever in his judgment and in the judgment of the directors of the mint it is for the interest of the United States to do so, to receive on deposit at the mint and branches refined gold and silver suitable for coinage, and in payment therefor deliver to the parties making such deposits imported bars at such rates and upon such terms and regulations as shall be prescribed by the directors of the mint, subject to the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury.

Mr. FRELINGHUYSEN then addressed the Senate in reply to the argument of Mr. Morton, yesterday, on his bill to punish the collection of illegal taxes upon passengers, &c.

Mr. MORTON replied briefly, when the discussion was interrupted by the expiration of the morning hour.

Mr. WILSON offered a joint resolution to drop from the rolls of the army the officers absent without leave. Referred to Military Committee.

Mr. WILSON offered a joint resolution re-appointing Professor Agassiz as Regent of the Smithsonian Institute, which passed.

Mr. HOWARD, from the Committee on Pacific Railroad, reported a joint resolution directing the Secretary of the Treasury to withhold from the Union Pacific Railroad Company, and from each of its branches, Government bonds to the amount of $3,000 per mile, as security for the completion of the several lines of road according to the provisions of the law, this amount per mile to be reserved until the President of the United States shall have certified that the roads are so completed, which is to be determined by special Commissioners who shall examine the roads and report, the expense of such examinations to be paid by the Pacific Railroad Companies. Laid on the table.

The Senate then resumed the consideration of the bill to promote commerce among States which, by an amendment made yesterday, is now merely a bill to authorize the construction of a railroad between Washington and New York.

The pending amendment was that offered by Mr. Doolittle, to require the consent of the Legislatures of the States through which the road would pass.

Mr. DOOLITTLE addressed the Senate. He opposed the bill, first, because the Constitution gave Congress no power to grant powers to any corporation, expressly or by implication; second, because Congress had no right to assert the right of eminent domain over the territory of a State and thereby to oust the jurisdiction of the State itself; third, because Congress had no power to withdraw valuable and important property interest belonging to the States out of the reach of taxation by the States. In conclusion he said it was well known he would soon retire from the Senate, probably from public life, for which reason he was the less likely to be influenced by any other consideration than a desire for the happiness and prosperity of his country, and therefore he looked with confidence to his brother Senators not to allow themselves to be persuaded, by the specious plea of the commercial necessity of building up Washington into a great capital, to enter upon the dangerous experiment proposed in this bill, a system of legislation which would result in subjecting the government to the control of mammoth corporations having neither bodies to be kicked nor souls to be damned, and in whose hands Congress and the President would be but playthings.

Mr. CONKLING, from the Committee of Conference in regard to the bill to prescribe the mode of obtaining evidence in contested election cases, reported they had agreed to it in a form authorizing Registers in Bankruptcy and Notaries Public to take such evidence.

After some discussion the report was agreed to.

Adjourned till to-morrow.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. POLAND, from Committee on Revision of the Laws, made a report in reference to the extension of the forty per cent. clause in the banking law, and to the printing of notices in bankruptcy. Ordered printed and re-committed.

Mr. KELLY introduced a bill to establish an assay office in Montana, to convert the branch mint at Denver into an assay office, and relative to the refining of gold and silver bullion at the United States mind and branches. Referred to Committee on Coinage.

Mr. GRISWOLD introduced a bill to diminish the fluctuations in gold and to provide for return to specie payments. Referred to Committee on Ways and Means and ordered printed. The bill proposes an issue of gold notes by the Government, redeemable in coin and receivable for all Government dues, not to exceed $350,000,000, and not to exceed the amount of gold in the Treasury above that required for three months' interest on the public debt, to be used in redeeming greenbacks at the average gold value.

Mr. DAVIS, from the Committee of Conference on the bill relative to taking testimony in contested election cases, made a report, which was agreed to,

The House then resumed the consideration of the bill granting land to the Denver Pacific Railroad and Telegraph Company.

Mr. LOGAN modified his substitute to read as follows:

Be it enacted, &c., That the Union Pacific Rail Road Company, Eastern Division, is hereby authorized to continue the completion of the road from the point of its present termini fifty-four miles in the direction to Cheyenne Wells, and shall have authority to issue coupon bonds to the extent of ——— dollars per mile of road to be rebuilt, said bonds to run forty years and to bear interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually on the first days of February and August of each year, in lawful money, the interest and principal to be payable at the Treasury of the United States, or at the office of the Assistant Treasurer of the United States in the city of New York, at the option of the Secretary of the Treasury, under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe. And the President of the United States shall appoint three competent persons as Commissioners to examine said railroad and report whether each section of twenty miles of the said road is built in a good and substantial manner; said Commissioners shall so report in writing to the President, who, being satisfied with such report, shall approve the same and cause it to be filed with the Secretary of the Treasury, whereupon the United States shall guarantee the payment of interest of bonds authorized to be issued as aforesaid, to the extent of ——— dollars per mile of the road built. And it is hereby made the duty of the Secretary of the Treasury to endorse and register such bonds of the United States, guaranteeing the payment of interest thereof, in such form as he may deem proper, and the endorsement of such bonds by the Secretary of the Treasury on behalf of the United States shall ipso facto constitute a first mortgage on said railroad, its rolling stock and furniture, in favor of the United States, to the extent of the interest on said bonds. And it is hereby made the duty of said railroad company to have on deposit with the Treasurer of the United States, at least ten days before any semi-annual interest falls due, a sufficient amount of money to pay such installment of interest, and upon failure to do so the President may cause the Secretary of the Treasury, upon sixty days' notice to said company, to take possession of said railroad, stock and fixtures, for or on behalf of the United States. And for the purpose of making provision for the payment of the interest of said bonds, the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby directed to retain, first, all sums of money due said company on account of transporting troops, munitions of war and military and Indian supplies; second, all moneys arising from the transportation of mails by the said Company; third, all moneys arising from the transmission of telegraph messages by the said Company for the United States. And the Secretary of the Treasury shall cause semi-annual statements of interest accounts to be made with said Company, and any surplus money remaining after the payment of any semi-annual installment of interest shall be paid to the said Company. And for the purpose of making provisions for the payment of the principal of the said bonds, so endorsed by the United States, the lands of the said Company hereafter granted by the United States for the construction of the said road, or so much as belong on either side of the said road as herein mentioned to be hereafter built, except so much as may be necessary to the operation of said road, which shall be set apart for that purpose by the three Commissioners aforesaid, shall be, as fast as every twenty miles of said road are completed, put into market to actual settlers at $2,50 per acre, under such rules and regulations as shall be prescribed by the Secretary of the Interior, and all moneys arising from the sale of said lands shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States, and the Secretary of the Treasury shall thereupon cause such money to be invested in the said bonds, the same to be cancelled and delivered to the said company.

The subject then went over for the day.

The SPEAKER gave notice that to-morrow Mr. Boutwell would call up the proposed Constitutional amendment in respect to suffrage, and the bill on that subject, for debate during the day.

The death of Mr. Hinds, late member from Arkansas, who was assassinated in that State during the recess of Congress, was announced by Mr. ELIOT, of Arkansas.

After eulogizing on deceased by the members of the Arkansas delegation, the House adjourned.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

Wood's United States detectives made a descent this morning on a den of counterfeiters at a barber shop, No 75 Cherry street, and arrested seven men, all Italians, on a charge of dealing in counterfeit notes. About $25,000 in counterfeit greenbacks, currency notes and fifty cent stamps, &c., were found on the premises, including $16,000 in two dollar bills of the Rhode Island National Bank. Antonio Denario is said to be the leader of the gang. Three other arrests of parties connected with the same "ring" were subsequently made. The Peabody Educational Fund—Progress of Education South.

BALTIMORE, January 22.—At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Peabody Fund to-day Samuel Watson, of Tennessee, was unanimously elected to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Wm. C. Rives, of Virginia.

The report of Dr. Sears says that since his last report special attention has been given to Western Virginia, Arkansas and Western Tennessee. In West Virginia during the past year three hundred school houses were erected and one Norman school opened, while a second is waiting only for funds sufficient to pay salaries of teachers. The State Superintendent appears well qualified for his duties, and the County Superintendents whom Dr. Sears saw are self-sacrificing and efficient. Everything, in fact, appears promising, although the system is still in its infancy. It appears that for every thousand dollars given from the Peabody Fund $5,000 were raised by the people, besides what they paid for school houses. In Arkansas deep interest is felt on the subject of education. The whole State is divided into school districts. There is a State Superintendent elected by the people for four years, as well as ten circuit superintendents, appointed by the Governor for four years, and also a trustee in each district, elected annually by the people. A tax of one dollar is paid by every inhabitant over the age of twenty-one. At Pine Bluff a proposition was made to give $800 from the fund, if the people would raise $3,000. At Little Rock, where there are fifteen hundred white and one thousand colored children, arrangements were made for large primary schools in each ward and for a high school to accommodate four hundred to five hundred advanced pupils. The Peabody Fund contribution was $2,000. Similar propositions were made to the towns of Fort Smith, Vanburen, Jacksonport, Camden, Washington, Fayetteville, Helena and four or five smaller towns which, for the most part, have been accepted. Tennessee has a school law, but not so perfect as West Virginia or Arkansas. The sub-district system is its worst feature, introducing nothing but confusion and disorder. Unfortunately, also, the school fund has been pledged as security for State debts, and until recently no distribution has been made to schools, and then only in small amounts. The school law, although of nearly two years standing, is just beginning to take effect. A year ago there were few or no schools. Now there are in several counties an average of about fifty schools. Knoxville city has now a complete system of graded schools, for the support of which $9,000 are paid from its treasury and $2,000 from the Peabody Fund. The attendance is nearly equal to that of the whole county last year. The public schools of Chattanooga, called into existence by an offer of $1,000 from the general amount, are also highly prosperous. Memphis has been similarly aided and is now erecting a fine large building to bear the name of Peabody. Four of the center districts of Tennessee have received various amounts from $500 to $1,000. Similar arrangements have been effected in other States. Perhaps no city has made a nobler advance than Petersburg, Virginia. In Louisiana, through the gratuitous agency of Hon. B. M. Fisher, in connection with the General Agent, schools have been established in ten towns of the State.

On motion of Mr. Evarts, it was ordered that the next annual meeting be held on the 3d Thursday of January, 1870, and that thereafter that shall be the time of the annual meetings until otherwise ordered.

On motion of General Grant, seconded by Governor Graham, it was resolved "that in token of our grateful remembrance of the founder of this trust, a copy of the proceedings of the meeting, signed by the Chairman and Secretary, be transmitted to him, with these specs of this Board."

Resolutions were adopted recognizing the wisdom, fidelity and diligence which have marked the course of the General Agent in his appropriation of the means committed to his discretion and care. The Board then adjourned.

New Brighton—The Churches—Literary Entertainments, &c.

[Correspondence of Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW BRIGHTON, Jan. 22, 1869.

The churches of this place have been more than usually active since the holidays. The week of prayer was observed by nearly all of them, and it proved an interesting week. How appropriate that the Christian world should engage in prayer to Almighty God at the same time and for the same blessings. We have had service in the churches frequently, and in some of them daily ever since. There is considerable interest, though not as general as is desired.

We have here, as well as elsewhere, the several classes that generally compose the community, to wit: the earnest Christian, the lukewarm professor, the so-called moral worldling, and the reckless, miserable sinner, who glories in his shame. Some of this latter class are in the habit of going to two or three churches in one evening, and thus by going in and out during service and loitering in the vestibules constitute themselves a public nuisance.

As to literary entertainments, such as lectures, etc., the people here fare about as well as those in the cities. We have had four lectures this week. One Monday night by Rev. Watkins, on Words, Wednesday night by Rev. Bogdan, the Nestorian Priest, on the Religious and Political condition of the People of Turkey, and on Friday night by Dr. Clark, of Allegheny, on Work and Wages. They were all good, instructive lectures, worthy of the patronage of an intelligent public.

We are having good winter weather. The ground is covered with snow. The health of the people is generally good. I think we do not average a funeral a week. C.

State Agricultural Society.

The State Agricultural Society met in Harrisburg on Wednesday afternoon. There was a reasonably full attendance of members. The contest for some of the offices was very animated. A DAY WITH THE DUCHESS OF SUTHERLAND.

BY HARRIET BRECHER STOWE.

A day at Dunrobin Castle was spent much in this fashion: Between eight and nine o'clock the guests began assembling in a charming little boudoir adjoining the grand drawing-room, where the breakfast was always served. Here the Duchess, always fresh and radiant, and with something appropriate and kind to say to each one, waited for a few moments before leading the way to a room where the servants of the house were assembled for family worship. On the entrance of the Duchess and her guests all rose respectfully, and remained standing until they were seated; after which the Duchess read morning prayers, concluding with the Lord's Prayer, in which all joined audibly. Breakfast, which immediately followed, was on the whole the most charming meal of the day—the table being spread in the brightest and airiest room in the house, whose windows overlooked the tree-tops of the forest and the blue waters of the German Ocean. It was a meal of unconventional freedom and ease; every one's letters were laid beside his place, and the opening and reading of these, and the passing backwards and forwards of cheerful bits of information gathered from them, formed a very pleasant feature of the hour. After breakfast there was a little season of chatting and lounging in the parlors, while the Duchess arranged with some of her friends a thoughtful programme for the day, which included provision for the comfort and amusement of every guest; and these arrangements being understood, the Duchess could command her time until luncheon at two o'clock.

The gentlemen of the family, as a general thing, were supposed to spend the day in the open air, as this was the shooting season.

After lunch at two o'clock, the guests generally drove out, and spent the afternoon in excursions to different points of interest in the surrounding beautiful country, returning in season for an hour of rest and refreshment before the dressing-bell rang for dinner.

Dinner at eight o'clock was the grand reunion of the day; all, however divided in pursuits, were expected to meet then, and spend the evening thenceforward in each other's society. Music and conversation diversified the evening, and at twelve o'clock the Duchess dismissed each of her guests, handing a night-lamp with some appropriate kind word.

The disappearance of the beautifully dressed ladies up and down the long corridors of the castle, with those silver night-lamps in their hands, and their passing behind the draperied portals of the different doors was like a scene in the opera.

The Duchess was never insensible to the poetry of the life she was living. The romantic castle by the sea had its charms for her, and she enriched its architecture and arranged its apartments with many graceful suggestions.

The boudoir, where we assembled in the morning, was lined with sea-green satin, and the cornices of the curtains were of white enameled shells and coral. The tables and furniture of the room were adorned with shells and coral; even the small mouldings were wrought in the form of sea-shells.

Nothing could be thought of more quaintly beautiful than the terraced walks, the magnificent staircases, the lovely gardens with their fountains and their flowers, which surrounded this castle.

With the warm inspiration of the Duchess' lovely and life-giving presence, Dunrobin seems to us like a beautiful dream. And though the rose of England is now faded, though leaf by leaf dropped from it in that long and weary trial of debility and sickness, which must end the most prosperous life, yet it is comforting to think that the noblest and sweetest part of what gave the charm there is immortal.

Patient continuance in well-doing was the great effort and end of her own life and her husband's. And of all that they possessed, this patient continuance is the only thing that retains permanent value in the eves of God or man.—Atlantic Monthly for February.

L'OPERA-BOUFFE.

Mrs. Rebecca Harding Davis, in a stinging article contributed to Putnam's, has these strictures on the modern stage:

The most salient and apparent change in women, in the last few years (I do not say the deepest), is not advance in intelligence, marked as that may be; it is the growth in impurity. It is simply a transient effect of this roused and ungratified brain-power. The ordinary London or New York woman is too far advanced in the "progress of the age" to find employment for her awakened imagination or reason in housekeeping or in gossip; too little to turn to art or science, or even downright hard business. In self-defence, then, she listens to lascivious music, or looks at the living pictures of the ballet, where her passions at least are daintily played upon. She reads, or writes, as the case may be, novels in which few of the men are honest, and none of the women virtuous, or, advancing a step farther, she finds that but a mean and ignoble life for a woman which is sacrificed to the children whom God has given her; and, on aesthetic principels, quietly does her share in building up the temples to murder that openly face us in our most crowded streets.

I begin with an extreme case. Perhaps so. Yet hunger is not choice in its food, and there is reason to doubt whether the ordinary aliment of all women in literature or art, now, is a whit more pure and wholesome than that of men, coarse as we declare their appetites to be.

There is a class of subjects, the name of which would bring the red to the old lady's cheek yonder, but with which it is the fashion of the day to make young girls thoroughly conversant. There is no need to send Nellie out of the room now, no matter what topic the matrons may discuss. The terra incognita of our grandmothers is well-trodden ground to her at sixteen.

How can it be otherwise?

She finds not only men, but women, whose names are tainted, among leaders of fashionable society; she sits beside her mother, and sees her smile at the bald indecency of the opera-bouffe without a blush; she hears the "social evil" coolly discussed as a social necessity. It is no wonder, then, that, night after night, Nelly herself may be seen, with back and bosom half-bared, whirling and perspiring in Dick French's arms, while her mother looks placidly on. If I hint my disgust, I am told severely, that to the pure all things are pure, and that the obscene play and the waltz that sets Dick French's blood on fire, if looked on æsthetically, are, to women, refined and innocent pleasures.

I doubt if any man believes this. If, for lack of pure occupation for their brains and senses, women of society bring this offal to pollute their daily lives, they need not suppose tnat any affected ignorance or asthetic sunlight will hide the real nature of the substance from the men about them. Dick French, worn roue that he is, has joined the school of the critic of the Saturday Review. He asserts that all women are represented by these. He hints that he understands the lures that these decollete belles put forth.

"It's hard on a fellow," he says. "The extravagance of these women won't allow a man to marry; yet they tempt him to do it with all the arts of the worst demi-monde." Then he and his compeers adjust their eyeglasses, and lean against doorways, critising the faces of the delicate young girls who are whirled past, as a trader might the slaves in the market.

A GOOD YARN.

In the village of —— lived a man who had once been a Judge of the county, and well known all over it by the name of Judge R——. He kept a store and a sawmill, and was always sure to have the best of the bargain on his side, by which he had gained an ample fortune; and some did not hesitate to call him the biggest rascal in the world. He was very conceited withal, and used to brag of his business capacity whenever any one was near to listen. One rainy day, as quite a number were seated round the stove, he began as usual to tell of his great bargains, and at last wound up with the expression—

"Nobody has ever cheated me, nor they can't neither."

"Judge," said an old man of the company, "I've cheated you more than you ever did me."

"How so?" said the judge.

"If you'll promise you won't go to law about it, nor do anything, I'll tell you, or else I won't; you are too much of a law character for me."

"Let's hear," cried half a dozen voices at once.

"I'll promise," said the judge, "and treat in the bargain if you have."

"Well, do you remember the wagon you robbed me of?"

"I never robbed you of a wagon; I only got the best of the bargain," said the judge.

"Well, I made up my mind to have it back, and—"

"You never did," interrupted the cute judge.

"Yes, I did, and interest too."

"How so?" thundered the now enraged judge.

"Well, you see, Judge, I sold you one day a very nice pine log, and bargained with you for a lot more. Well, that log I stole off your pile down at the mill, the night before, and the next day I sold it to you. The next night I drew it back home, and sold it to you the next day; and so I kept on till you had bought your own log of me twenty-seven times."

"That's a lie!" exclaimed the infuriated Judge, running to his book and examining his log account; "you never sold me twenty-seven logs of the same measurement."

"I know it," said the vender in logs; "by drawing it back and forth the end wore off, and as it wore I kept cutting the end off, until it was only ten feet long—just fourteen feet shorter than it was the first time I brought it—and when it got so short I drew it home and worked it up into shingles, and the next week you bought the shingles, and I concluded I had got the worth of my wagon back, and stowed away in my pocket book."

The exclamation of the judge was drowned in the shouts of the by-standers, and the log drawer found the door without the promised treat.

A MOTHER'S WISDOM.

The following letter of advice was written, says the Concord People, to a friend of ours, by his mother. We recommend it to other mother's sons, who are about starting out on life's stormy billows. These are good maxims, and we commend them to all. The man who has a mother that can write and feel as the author of this evidently does, is fortunate indeed:

TO MY DEAR SON.—The world estimates men by their success in life, and by general consent, permanent success is an evidence of superiority.

It will be safe for you to observe the following rules, which your affectionate mother prays God will strengthen you to do:

1—Base all your actions upon a principle of justice—preserve your integrity of character, and in doing it, never reckon the cost.

2—Never, under any circumstances, assume a responsibility you can avoid consistently with your duty to yourself, and others dependent on you. Or, in other words, "mind your own business."

3—Remember that self-interest is more likely to warp your judgment than all other circumstances combined; therefore look well to your duty, when your interest is concerned.

4—Never attempt to make money at the expense of your reputation, or dishonor will be the consequence.

5—Be neither lavish nor miserly; of the two avoid the latter. A mean man is universally despised, therefore generous feelings should be cultivated.

6—Avoid gambling of all kinds as a great evil—billiards, especially, because the most fascinating, therefore the most dangerous, the victim being enthralled before he is aware.

7—Always let your expenses be such as to leave a balance in your pocket. Ready money is always a friend in need.

8—Avoid borrowing and lending as far as possible.

9—Liquor drinking, smoking cigars, and chewing tobacco, are terrible habits to a young man; they impair the mind and pocket, and lead to a waste. They tend to lower a man, never elevate and lift him up in the regard of the virtuous and good.

10—Be not in the habit of relating your misfortunes to others, and never mourn over what you cannot prevent.

11—Let all see your good breeding, by showing due respect to age. Have dignity and reverence enough of character never to trifle with serious things—respect religion in others—seek it as a treasure invaluable—let it be the foundation on which to build all your structures, the possession of which will insure happiness here, and an enduring inheritance hereafter.

THE report of the American Colonization Society shows that the receipts last year, from donations, legacies, &c., were over $51,000. Over $30,000 were paid to transport emigrants to Liberia; $15,000 to repair their ship, and $17,000 for other purposes. The expenditures during the last three years have exceeded the receipts by $62,000, and they call for more income. The emigration fell off nearly two hundred last year.

—The investigation of the affairs of the city of St. Louis, and especially of the ex-city officials, which has been progressing for some time past, shows positive frauds, proved and acknowledged, and recoverable by law, $23,747; frauds ascertained by strong circumstantial evidence, responsibility for which cannot positively be fixed, $112,664; total, $136,412.

—J. H. McVicker of Chicago publishes a spicy letter in reply to Fargo's, respecting his suit against the Merchants' Union Express company. Mr. McVicker says Fargo's plea of injured innocence will not do. He ridicules the idea of libel suits, and says the Express companies must show their hands, and that the case must be fought on its merits without malice.

—There are about ninety registered distilleries in the Seventh Kentucky District going into operation as fast as possible under the law. During December last thirteen distilleries in that district produced 255,899 gallons of proof spirits.

PITTSBURGH METAL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, January 22, 1868.

The metal market has again been active this week, numerous heavy sales having been effected, and, as a general thing, a firmer feeling is manifested, though prices, compared with last week, have undergone no material change. The demand seems to have been unusually active, and at the close holders did not seem inclined to sell freely at quotations. Good Neutral and Cold Short Irons are in demand and scarce. These particular descriptions are pretty nearly sold up, and, as a consequence, there is but little on the market. Manufactured Iron is also firmer, with orders coming in freely, and judging from present indications there will soon be an advance in both Bar Iron and Nails. Manufacturers are receiving more orders than they care for, as they do not seem inclined to sell any more than they can help at present prices.

Financial Matters in New York.

Gold Closed at 135⅝.

NEW YORK, January 22, 1869.

MONEY.

The financial situation to-day showed a marked improvement. Money was very easy at 6@7 per cent. on call. There are indications that the project of the lock up of greenbacks has been abandoned, as the parties ranged on the "bear" side were free buyers to-day, and the "bull" element has been strengthened by the new accession. The abandonment of the "bear" campaign leaves the field clear for another upward movement. Sterling firmer; the supply of cotton and produce is light; prime bankers 9¾@9¾. Gold quiet and firm; opened at 135½, advanced to 135⅞, and closed at 135⅝. Clearances at gold exchange banks $33,000,000.

BONDS AND STOCKS.

Governments are generally about an ⅛ higher, and close strong. Coupons of 1881, 112¼@112¼; do. '62, 113¼@113⅓; do. '64, 109¾@109⅔; do. '65, 110¼@110¼; new do., 108¾@108⅔; do. '67, 108⅔@108¾; do. '68, 108¼@109; Ten-Forties, 107⅝@108; U. S. Sixes Pacific Railroad, 100¾@101½.

State Bonds opened weak and lower on Tennessees and North Carolinas, but closed firm. Missouris, 87½@88; old Tennessees, 67½; new do., 67⅜@67¾; new Virginias, 63; old North Carolinas, 64@64¾; new do., 61@61½; Alabama Eights, 94½@95; Louisiana Levees, Sixes, 72½@73; do. Eights, 89½@90¾.

Railway shares active and higher. The great feature was Michigan Southern, which rose 3 per cent. The transfer books close to-morrow for the 4 per cent. dividend. Rock Island touched 133, Toledo 105¼, Reading 96 and New York Central 164⅜, the latter on purchases by the friends of Vanderbilt. St. Paul shares weak on the stock dividend and 2@3c lower. Fort Wayne firm, with indications that the party seeking to control the next election, while buying for cash and regular delivery, are selling the same on options extending beyond the election. The general market closed strong, though somewhat unsettled, and prices hardly up to the highest rates of the day. There is a good borrowing demand for some stocks, and Michigan Southern and Rock Island are scarce. Miscellaneous shares active and bouyant, except Pacific Mail. Express shares generally firm, though fluctuations frequent and wide.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point with scant six feet in the channel by the Monongahela marks last evening. Weather yesterday was clear, cold and pleasant. Mercury did not get above 28 during the day, and towards evening it was going down again.

The Bayard, from Parkersburg, Kenton, from Portsmouth, and Glendale, from St. Louis, constitute the arrivals. The Glendale would have got here much sooner but for the fact that she was detained about Manchester putting off iron ore.

There were no departures aside from the regular packets.

The Grey Eagle, Captain C. L. Brennan, is the regular packet for Parkersburg today, leaving at noon.

There was considerable floating ice in the Allegheny last evening, but, ast yet, it does not amount to much.

The Bellevernon, Capt. J. J. Darragh will be the first boat out for St. Louis, leaving on Tuesday.

The new steamer Mollie Ebbert, Capt. G. W. Ebbert, is now receving for New Orleans, and will be the first boat out.

The Camelia, Capt. Thos. Poe, is announced to leave for Nashville this evening.

The Champion arrived last evening with a good trip.

The Sallie, Captain T. S. Calhoun, is announced to leave for Cincinnati and Louisville this evening, as is also the Glasgow, Capt. Andy Robinson, Jr. These are both good boats.

BOATMEN'S BETHEL.—Rev. Dallas, D. D., will hold religious services on Sabbath on the steamer Kate Putnam, at 3 o'clock. All are invited. Observe the Bethel flag at jackstaff.

—The R. R. Hudson left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Wednesday with four hundred tons freight and 30 passengers.

—The New York left Cincinnati for Nashville on Wednesday with 250 tons of freight, including something over 3,000 kegs of nails.

—David Berlin, formerly harbor master at St. Louis, has been indicted for obtaining a small sum of money under false pretenses, and admitted to bail in $1,000.

—The Great Republic was hauled out on the ways at Mound City in the short space of five hours which, considering the great size of the boat, reflects credit upon the managers of the railway.

—A St. Louis dispatch to the Cincinnati Commercial says: The charge of murder against Samuel Barr, of the Great Republic, has been nolle pross. The case of Captain Donaldson is continued on account of the absence of witnesses.

—The Vicksburg Herald, of Friday, says: The peninsula opposite Vicksburg has commenced a wholesale caving, having parted with the bank from Young's place down—nearly to the rear of Nolly's—a distance of several miles, and a width of two hundred yards. The little Roma Wheeler, passed at the time of one of the big cavings, had to make a "bee line shot" out into the middle of the stream to prevent being capsized by the surging waters.

—The following hit is from the Louisville Courier Journal: The House of Representatives at Washington are again tinkering at the Ohio river bridge bill, and it is said will amend the bill of the Senate so as to allow 400 feet span. We have not time nor inclination to give this measure any further discussion, but will, offer a mere suggestion that if the Committee had been here on our wharf a few evening since, when one of our first class boats was "piloted over the falls safely," &c., they would have thought that four hundred feet was hardly a circumstance, and been ready to vote five hundred yards, instead of four hundred feet. We are very sorry they were not here, as the same thing may never happen on the same boat.

—The St. Louis Democrat, says: The towboat Mary Alice arrived Saturday night with three model barges, each containing 20,000 bushels of coal, The run was made from Cairo to this port in forty-six hours, which is said to be the best work ever done by a towboat. The Mary Alice left again on Sunday morning for Cairo, with two barges loaded with iron ore.....We also clip the following from the same paper: We had the pleasure of a call yesterday from Commodore Joab Lawrence, President of the Sioux City & Fort Benton Packet Line, or N. W. Transportation Company. The Commodore visits this section for the purpose of purchasing six steamboats for his line, which was very successful last season, and enjoys the prospect of a greatly enlarged business this year.

GOLD closed yesterday in New York at 135⅛.

THE ERIE RAILWAY clique bought at public auction on last Tuesday, for the sum of $200,000, the Ashtabula and New Lisbon Railway.

THE merchants of St. Louis have got beyond grumbling over discriminations to their detriment in railway charges. They mean to establish an agency in New York, on their own account. So vigorous an example may prove worthy of imitation elsewhere.

OUR JUDGMENT is that the House, at Harrisburg, in adding twenty-seven to the number of its employees did an unnecessary and unwise thing. The House has no need of the retinue of servants it has created, and no expectation that they will earn the money paid them.

THE ABSURD story, which a New York journal published a few days since, purporting to relate the action of the War Department in twice issuing orders to Gen. BANKS to supercede Gen. GRANT before Vicksburg, is pronounced by ex-Secretary STANTON, "a malicious falsehood." No such orders were either issued, or ever contemplated.

THE Indiana Senatorial question has been very happily solved, by the withdrawal, of the first Republican nominee, following which Hon. D. S. PRATT, of Logansport, was promptly elected. This business has been an unfortunate one for both of the two gentlemen, whose personal controversy will leave bad results rankling among the Republicans of Indiana.

THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS yesterday re-elected the GAZETTE and Dispatch official organs to do the county printing for the 1869. We are duly grateful for this new expression of confidence and approbation on the part of our friends, and trust we may be able to so satisfactorily discharge our duties as to cause no regret that our journal has been thus honored. The GAZETTE, for the current year, is the official paper of the cities of Pittsburgh, Allegheny, and of Allegheny county.

BY A TIMELY "bolt" from the Senate-chambers at Harrisburg, the Democratic minority contrived yesterday to defeat the House bill continuing a Republican in office as tax-receiver at Philadelphia, and, of course, excluding the Democrat whom the people chose for his successor last October. This bill was not such as, with the lights before us, we could approve. We think it should neither have been introduced nor passed. Nevertheless, the Democratic resort, to avert the danger of its passage, was in itself revolutionary, and not to be justified. In all such cases, we hold it to be wiser, and a truer republicanism, to abide by all legal and constitutional forms, seeking no redress outside of these, and relying only upon the inevitable retribution with which, sooner or later, the right judgment of an honest people will visit the abuses or even the mistakes of their servants.

SINCE the public have learned that a change of location has been contemplated by the Faculty of Washington and Jefferson College, now situated at Washington and Canonsburgh, the subject has attracted much attention in other communities ambitious of providing a permanent home for the consolidated institution. We learn from the Fayette county press that President EDWARDS and a majority of the Trustees are favorably impressed with the advantages which Uniontown offers for this location. A meeting of the citizens of that borough, held last week, took the preliminary steps to secure a final decision in their favor. While we think that our own cities can find for the institution a suburban site which, all things considered, would be the best for the College, we cannot deny that in none other of the flourishing and pleasant towns of Western Pennsylvania could the College find a better seat than at Uniontown.

A PHILADELPHIA cotemporary which has justly acquired a large influence by the wisdom of its counsels, rejoices that the "protectorate" resolution of Gen. BANKS was defeated, but expresses the belief that our government, "interfering quietly in the affairs of the West India Islands," without any risk to ourselves, "could easily manage their internal difficulties by negotiation with the leading elements," thus giving us "all the benefits of a protectorate without any of the expense or risk." Evidently, our cotemporary shares in Secretary SEWARD'S confidence in his own ability to accomplish the impossible—and gives this striking proof of it. The quiet interference, which costs nothing, risks nothing and will effect most for American interests in those Islands, will be limited to the influences of our Republican example. That will, in due season, accomplish more for Republican progress, better and more surely, than we can ever hope from any direct or indirect intervention.

EDWIN M. STANTON.

Early last spring, and prior to Mr. STANTON'S final retirement from the War office, the GAZETTE announced, upon due authority, his fixed and irrevocable determination to decline future public service in any capacity whatever. We have now to add that it is within our knowledge that this distinguished gentleman has never, from that to the present hour, either directly or indirectly, given any color to the idea that he had changed, or would reconsider, this irrevocable resolution. Hence, we have not thought it needful to allude to the rumors current of late, that he would enter the new Cabinet. Nor does it surprise us, or the other friends of Mr. STANTON who know him well, to be told that, when approached a few days since on this point, he said:

"I am not a candidate for any office, nor will I accept any position in the gift of the Government. I do not want a place in the Cabinet, and I do not want a foreign mission. I long since announced my purpose to retire to private life. This I have done. And when I say I will not go into public life again, I mean it. My intention is not for to-day, but for all time. I shall never hold public office."

THE SUFFRAGE.

We reprint the proposition, from the Senate Judiciary Committee, for an additional, or XVth Article of the Constitution:

ARTICLE 15. The rights of citizens of the United States to vote and hold office shall not be denied or abridged by the United States, or any State, on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude.

For which Senator WILLIAMS proposed the following substitute:

"Congress shall have power to abolish or abrogate any restrictions on the right to vote or hold office prescribed by the Constitution or law of any State."

In our own Legislature, a member proposes to amend the Constitution of the Commonwealth by giving the suffrage to every citizen, legally a resident as at present, and twenty-one or more years of age, irrespective of age, sex or color. Without impeaching the good faith which has prompted this movement, or dissenting from the logic o the proposition, it is enough to say that it will not be seriously sustained in many influential quarters.

The proposition before Congress will be fully discussed, and other amendments are to be suggested. If the decision shall be to ask State ratification for an article prohibiting any disqualifications for race or color upon the suffrage for Federal purposes, there would be a very reasonable prospect for its incorporations in due time into the fundamental law. Such an article would in effect, and legitimately, accomplish all the local reforms which the most Radical people desire.

RECENT RAILROAD COMBINATIONS.

The border of our populated country is, year after year, moving farther and farther westward, at a rate of progress unexampled in the world's history; and while this onward march is going on, things between us and the border are taking shape, becoming fixed, crystalizing, and the country is packing fuller and fuller of people and of wealth. Commerce, thoughout all that extended and fertile region, is making for itself channels, which, when made, will be almost as irreversible as the courses of rivers.

In the late combinations among railroad corporations, in order to form unbroken lines reaching from the Atlantic border to the Mississippi and beyond it, we see those channels taking definite shape and continuity. By one of these treaties of alliance between high contracting parties, we have seen the Atlantic and Great Western, the Ohio and Mississippi, and other roads, absorbed as it were by the Erie Railway Company, and an aggregate property to the value of two hundred millions of dollars brought under the control of a single board of directors. So gigantic a combination of capital and power would be dangerous in any country less powerful than this; and even here the only way to meet and countervail its baleful influence is to checkmate it with other and rival combinations equally potent. Greatness is but a relative term, and forces, however strong, may be met by counter forces equally potent, and a wholesome equilibrium may be maintained; and thus the interests of farmers, and artisans, and small traders may be maintained in health and thrift, as an infant can rejoice and grow in an atmosphere so ponderous that, were it to press unequally upon him, would crush him to death in an instant. So with these railroad corporations; if we can poise them one against another, and thus maintain a balance of power, they can no more crush us than the atmosphere can crush the people upon whom it presses.

The New York Central, also, is forming its combinations with companies west of that State, and has its lines to the great trade centres of the lakes and the Mississippi basin; and we are glad of it, notwithstanding both these roads of which we have spoken contribute to swell the commerce and power of a city whose power and wealth and influence are already too great for a republic. Still it is better for the country that the Erie and the Central should be rivals, than that the tremendous power of the Empire State should be concentrated in one line.

But, after all, the best check upon that giant corporation which has VANDERBILT at its head is found in our own Pennsylvania Central. It, too, has matured its combinations which carry it to Chicago, and to the Mississippi and beyond it. It may not control property to the amount of two hundred millions, but it is not much short of it; and, by quiet, prudent, masterly management, it enjoys a credit and wields a power to which its great and turbulent rival can make no pretension. The stock of the latter, in enormous volume, is ever in the market, and is tossed to and fro between bulls and bears in perpetual unrest; while that of the other is not in the market at all, in considerable quantities, but is held by those who are fortunate enough to possess it as among the choicest of permanent investments. This difference the people of the West understand very well; and they are free to express their gratification when they see their own local thoroughfares passing under Pennsylvania control. Nothing has so contributed to give our State a high and enviable standing among the people of the States on both sides of the Mississippi as our great Central road, with its beneficent influence upon their prosperity.

Locally our road has a vast advantage over its great Northern rivals, for it is a shorter and more direct line between New York and all the great commercial centers west of the Allegheny mountains than are any of its rivals, as the following table of distances will show:

CHICAGO TO NEW YORK, VIA NEW YORK AND ERIE.

	Miles.
Chicago to Dunkirk (S. Mich., Lake Shore.).....	498
Dunkirk to New York (N. Y. & Erie).....	460

CHICAGO TO NEW YORK, VIA N. Y. CENTRAL.

Chicago to Buffalo (S. Mich. Lake Shore).....	538
Buffalo to Albany (N. Y. Centr'l).....	298
Albany to New York (Hudson River R. R.).....	144
	980

CHICAGO TO NEW YORK, VIA PA. CENTRAL, ALLENTOWN ROUTE.

Chicago to Pittsburgh (Fort Wayne road).....	468
Pittsburgh to New York.....	431

This shows that the Pennsylvania Central has the advantage, as between those two great commercial points, of fifty-nine miles over the Erie Railway Co., and of eighty-one miles over the New York Central. As between New York and St. Louis, and other commercial centres in the great Central Basin of the Continent, the difference in favor of the more southern line of course becomes still greater. From St. Louis to New York, through Pennsylvania, the distance is 974 miles, which is only sixteen miles greater than that between Chicago and New York, via the Erie road, and is six miles less than that between the same points via the New York Central.

Kansas City, which is in the midst of the finest tract of country on the Continent, is destined very soon to become a very important railroad and commercial centre. From that point to New York, over the shortest Eastern lines, the distances are as follows:

	Miles.
Via the New York Central.....	1,470
Via the New York and Erie.....	1,448
Via the Pennsylvania Central.....	1,357

So much for relative distances. The figures themselves are their own best commentary.

Now what is the interest—we do not say what is the duty—but what is the interest of our people in view of all these facts, and in the face of these gigantic combinations. Is it to stand in an attitude of cold indifference, if not of hostility, towards the mighty struggle for the grandest prize in material interests that ever men battled for; or is it to give whatever aid we can to the only corporation we have that is able to enter the lists. In this matter it is perfectly clear that the interests of Pittsburgh and of the Pennsylvania Railroad are identical. Whatever squabbles we may have had in the past, or may have again, about local matters, we cannot hesitate to feel and acknowledge that in the struggle for supremacy now going on west of us that corporation is fighting our battle; and that self-interest, as well as civic and State pride, binds us to stand by them as friends and allies.

As a power within the State, and confined to the State, that corporation was thought to be dangerously strong, and perhaps it was; but when, as now, it is called upon to engage in a struggle on an arena as broad as the nation, and with forces with which nothing but the most gigantic power, combined with consummate skill, is able to grapple, we have reason to be very glad that it is so strong.

RAILWAY STRATEGY.

It has been a favorite policy with the "prudent" managers of prosperous railway corporations to declare only moderate dividends, carrying often their large surplus of earnings either to a reserve fund, or expending it in aid of collateral or affiliated interests. Usually, there have been found, among the stock-holders, a limited number of querulous people who have protested against this policy, insisting that every dollar, thus fairly earned, should be as regularly and fairly divided among those to whom it properly belonged. And, quite as usually, these protests have been disregarded, the reservation policy being supported by the majority vote, as often represented by proxies in the hands of the managers themselves.

The sharp and enterprising financiers of the FISK, GOULD and VANDERBILT class, seeing the weak point, have so turned the position as to make it the very strongest for themselves. Appealing to the cupidity of that large class of share-holders who, investors, in large blocks, for permanent incomes, and content with eight or ten per cent. dividends, have never been fully alive to the real worth of their property, the financiers o whom we speak have inaugurated a policy which promises, at least for a while, to be as successful as it is bold. Nor is that policy altogether without plausible merit, when share-holders are told: "Gentlemen! your property, paying you only ten per cent., has earned, in the past ten years, other fifty per cent., which also is just as much yours. We propose now to give it to you. Put your affairs into our hands. We shall at once distribute this reserved fifty per cent. to you as its proper owners. We shall divide it in new stock, and here are the figures to show that the aggregate capital, thus represented, will still earn for you a ten per cent. income."

This is the policy realized by VANDERBILT in the New York Central, and promised by his friends and present allies of the Erie to the stockholders of such roads as the Cleveland and Pittsburgh and the Fort Wayne. The alliance wields a vast capital. Purchasing the control of road after road, it is stronger with each step for another step beyond. And this explains why to-day Fort Wayne stock has gone to an unprecedented figure under the competition for its purchase. It seems probable that large lots of its stock and bonds, never before seen since they were first taken out of the street for investment, have been drawn from private vaults by the temptation of high pricea, and are now changing hands. This explains why the financial journals now concur in declaring that the control of the Fort Wayne has really been secured by the new combination in the Erie and New York Central interests.

This combination—swinging the legitimate means of some solvent and wealthy corporations, with the vast plunder of other concerns whose stock is not to-day worth a dollar—is said to have the control of $100,000,000 of money. With such means, and with the cupidity of the share-holding public to sustain them, it might be very difficult to withstand the movement which threatens to absorb railway after railway, and then to fling down a defiant glove before the Pennsylvania Central, at the western end of its own road.

In this statement of the possible situation are suggested other reflections, of a general nature, to which we may invite the reader's attention another day.

RAILWAYS AS MISSIONARIES.

Many observant men have long been of the opinion that commerce is not only the great Civilizer of nations, but, in a very important sense, their Christianizer too. It follows, necessarily from this view of the case, that those instrumentalities which are of chiefest value for purely commercial purposes, must be of great utility in promoting civilization and diffusing christianity. Commerce has no instrument more potent than the railway, and this is yet in the infancy of its development.

The North British Review, for December, has an elaborate and exhausting article upon the railway system of British India, in which incidentally a revelation is made of the potentiality of railways in the line of missionary work, showing that they have already accomplished in one direction, at least, more than all the clergymen and school teachers so far sent to India from Europe and the United States. Read:

"Contrary to forebodings uttered by men whose knowledge of the country well entitled them to be heard, the natives of India at once took kindly to railway travelling. Scruples of religion or caste yielded to the ease and economy which the new means of conveyance offered; due attention being of course paid by the railway companies to such prejudices as were capable of being accommodated without undue inconvenience. Separate carriages, or compartments, for instance, were provided for women, in deference to the dislike which the people of the East entertain to their wives and daughters being looked at by strangers. And, where circumstances permitted the arrangement, efforts were in early days made to afford distinct accommodations for certain castes, and, above all, for certain outcasts. Here, however, as in Europe, it was soon apparent that the railway is a sad leveller of social distinctions; so that in a short time Brahmans of the purest strain of blood were to be seen penned up in the cattle-truck-like vehicles which form the third-class carriages of India, in close and contented contact with Pariahs, whose very presence under the same roof would in former years have been held to involve pollution."

Christian missionaries have unanimously concurred in maintaining that caste was the most formidable buttress to the religious system of India, and that, when it should be abrogated, all the rest would be comparatively easy. Their difficulty has consisted in knowing how to assail it effectually, so as to introduce the doctrines of equality and brotherhood. What they have failed in finding a way to do, the railway is rapidly accomplishing in the special interests of commerce, but also in the general interests of amelioration and progress, that is, of civilization and christianity.

FREE-TRADERS IN OFFICE.

Upon a motion pending in the House to print the recent report of Commissioner Wells, our member, Gen. MOORHEAD, remarked:

"If this is the usual number I shall not oppose it, but I certainly would oppose the printing of an additional number. I think the report should be treated fairly. I think there are some statistics in this report which are valuable, and I have some interest in its being printed to a limited extent. That interest arises from a remark I made last summer in discussing the tariff bill, about the Special Commissioner. It was drawn out by a remark made by the gentleman from Iowa, [Mr. ALLISON,] and is as follows:

"But before leaving this point, as my sensitive friend, the gentleman from Iowa, [Mr. ALLISON.] seemed a little anxious about the Special Commissioner of Internal Revenue, to whom I unfortunately referred in this connection, I deem it proper to say to the House and to the country that if it is necessary or important that this Government should keep an officer in its service at a large salary for the purpose of guarding the interests of the foreign manufacturer, the foreign importer, the foreign agent in New York, then the Secretary of the Treasury has been signally fortunate in the selection he has made, and Mr. Wells is the proper man for the place."

Now, sir, the interest I have in printing this report proves what I said. It is a free-trade document, and I have no doubt the Free-Trade League will publish it and scatter it broadcast.

THAT our readers may better understand how there came about, last Tuesday, the Senatorial elections in all the States where expiring terms were to be provided for, we print the following:

The law of Congress passed July 25, 1866, regulating the mode in which United States Senators shall be elected by the Legislatures of the several States, provides that each House shall, by a viva voce vote of each member present, name a person for Senator, on the second Tuesday after the meeting and organization thereof. On the day following the Houses shall meet in joint assembly, and if the same person shall have received a majority of all the votes cast in each House, he shall be declared duly elected Senator of the United States; but if not, then the joint assembly shall proceed to choose, by a viva voce vote, a person for the purpose aforesaid, and the person who shall receive a majority of all the votes of the joint assembly, a majority of the members of each House being present, shall be declared duly elected. If such Senator is not elected on the first day, the joint assembly shall meet and take at least one vote per day during the session of the Legislature.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The Semi-Centennial Anniversary of the Parent Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, was held in Washington city, D. C., Sunday and Monday, the 10th and 11th inst. Sermons appropriate to the occasion were preached on Sunday morning in all the Methodist Episcopal churches, by Bishops Janes and Ames, Revs. G. S. Hare, A. Cookman, C. D. Foss and others. In the afternoon Juvenile anniversaries were held in several of the churches. At night a platform meeting was held in Foundry church, Judge Fisher, of the District Supreme Court, presiding, and a platform meeting at Wesley Chapel, at which Chief Justice Chase presided. His speech on taking the chair was worthy of the cause, and reflected honor upon this distinguished jurist. Addresses were also delivered by Bishop Janes and Hon. H. Price, of Iowa. Senators Wilson, of Massachusetts, and Willey, of West Virginia, were present but did not speak. Monday morning and evening were devoted to public meetings, at which Bishop Ames, Judge Reynolds, of Brooklyn, Hon. R. S. Matthews, of Baltimore, Dr. Harris, and others, made excellent addresses. Dr. Harris, one of the Corresponding Secretaries of the Society, presented an interesting exhibit of the financial condition of the Society, from which it appears the grand aggregate of contributions for fifty years amount to $8,521,580. The first decade the contributions reached $63,010, average annual contributions $6,301. The fifth decade shows the average annual contributions to be $451,665, making an aggregate of $4,516,650. The aggregate collections for the past year exceed six hundred thousand dollars.

The New York Ministerium, of the Lutheran Church, have recently defined certain conditions which represent the views of the main body of the Lutherans in that State, in which they have declared that they would hold no communion in the Lord's supper with those who proved themselves opponents of their doctrine; allowing no one to occupy their pulpits concerning whom the pastor and the congregation have not assurance that he will expound truly the word of God: and that no minister who is a member of any secret society can either be or become a member of this Synod.

The Unitarians have for some time been affording material help to the African Methodist Episcopal Church, to enable them to prosecute their work more efficiently among their own people. The last gift of the Unitarians is, fifty or one hundred libraries of not less than forty volumes each, for the Sunday Schools. Bishop Paine is to select the books.

It has been said that the Methodist Episcopal body dedicates a new church every day of the year, and the assertion seems to be more boastful than accurate. Yet the statistics of the Church, says the Presbyterian, for 1868, show that it is within the truth, for the increase during the year, in the number of church edifices, reaches to five hundred and seventy. This makes something more than three new churches for every two days in the year.

At a late meeting of the First Reformed Presbyterian church of Philadelphia, Dr. Wylie, pastor, proposed to have his salary ($3,500) reduced, in view of the reduction of their numbers by the secession of a part of the membership. A resolution was adopted, unanimously, that no such reduction was called for.

The Independent represents that an Israelite named David Cohen, residing at Roxbury, Massachusetts, was arrested for keeping his store open on the Christian Sabbath, and fined by the Judge, notwithstanding his plea that the Jewish Sabbath occurs Saturday. The Jewish Messenger says of such cases that those who break the State laws are generally those very ones who will not observe their own Sabbath.

The Congregational church at Woodstock, Vermont, has voted to have but one sermon on the Sabbath, and that in the afternoon.

The Rev. Mr. Francis, it is said, is making arrangements to erect a church and organize a Baptist society in Salt Lake City, Utah.

The Advance, speaking of the appointment of deaconesses in Mr. Beecher's church, at Brooklyn, argues that it is a return to primitive practice, and a resort to an instrumentality of much power. It quotes the well known passage found in Rom. XVI, I, where Paul writes, "I commend unto you Phebe, our sister, who is a servant (deaconess) of the church which is at Cinchrea," in support of the office. The uses of the office are discussed at considerable length, and many points are raised that will interest all who favor the extension of woman's domain of power and usefulness.

The venerable Dr. Spring, of New York, on the first Sabbath of the month wished his people "Happy New Year" for the fifty-ninth time. He stated that there were but three persons living, to his knowledge, who were members of the congregation when he became its pastor in 1810.

Rev. Dr. Huntingdon, recently elected Bishop of Central New York, is a convert from Unitarianism. He is represented in extravagant terms for ability, scholarly attainments, and as an eloquent minister. The American Churchman speaks in glowing words of his admirable qualifications for the Bishopric, but thinks there is perhaps not another man in the Church who can fill his place in Boston, or exercise his peculiar influence for Nicene Christianity in Massachusetts.

Dr. Evans, Rector of St. Mary's Church, in the Strand, London, after a quarrel with his Church Wardens, recently preached from the text, "We are fools for Christ sake," and then clearly proved how applicable were the words to himself and the Church Wardens. So facetiously inclined was the reverend clergyman that he kept his congregation almost choking with laughter. The Wardens, of course, could not reply.

The General Convention of the Episcopal Church very sensibly made it obligatory upon the ministers in that connection to read to their respective congregations certain selections touching ministerial support. This course is eminently proper, as some people strangely forget their just duty in providing liberal support for their ministers, and the evil prevails too generally in all denominations.

Plymouth Congregational church, Pittsburgh, says the Advance, have extended a call to Rev. E. Y. Garrette, of Milbury, Massachusetts.

The custom has been adopted in the grand Jewish Synagogue of New York of both sexes worshipping together by families and the men with uncovered heads, instead of the custom of the men occupying the body of the synagogue with their hats on, and the women the galleries.

—On Monday night Geo. Woodell, a farmer, living in Claremont, New Hampshire, was murdered and Mrs. Woodell terribly cut, by their nephew, Wm. Kenny, who lived with them. The deed was perpetrated with an axe. Kenny was arrested.

"A LITTLE BILIOUS."

How often this is the response to the enquiry after a friend's health; as if to be bilious was a trifling matter, hardly worth thinking about. But let it be remembered that, as "tall oaks from little acorns grow," so formidable diseases arise from being "a little bilious."

Severe bilious attacks are more common in Spring, Summer and Autumn than in Winter, but the serious disorders of the liver which so often occur at those seasons, might be traced, in hundreds of instances, to Winter indulgences and their neglected consequences. More highly-seasoned food is eaten, more fiery drinks imbibed, in cold than in warm weather, and thus the biliousness is produced which, under a warmer temperature, culminates in remittent and intermittent fevers.

The very best medicine for persons who are either a little or a good deal bilious, is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. No blue-pill or calomel is required in such cases. Those powerful mineral medicines cut two ways like a double-edged sword. They act, it is true, upon the liver, but re-act most deleteriously on other parts of the system. They "stick" there, and cannot be got rid of. The Bitters contain vegetable agents of an anti-bilious tendency, that produce a specific and most genial effect upon the biliary organ, without entailing any evil consequences whatever. They are altogether wholesome, and act favorably and simultaneously upon the stomach, the liver, the bowels, the nervous system, and the brain.

THE SOUND OF THE LUNGS.

One of the most accurate ways of determining whether the lungs are in a healthy or diseased condition, is by means of listening to the respiration. To those experienced in this practice it becomes as plain an index to the state of the lungs, and is as well known to the operator as are the voices of his most intimate acquaintances. The belief that long standing coughs, and diseases of the lungs upon which they are dependent, are incurable, are fast becoming obsolete. One great advantage to be gained from this advance in medical knowledge is the earlier application of those who become afflicted with those diseases to some one competent to afford relief. The error which had taken hold of the public mind in regard to the curability of consumption, or rather non-curability, is fast becoming obliterated, and it is well that it should be so, not that persons should lose that salutary fear which would make them apply for a timely remedy, but that all might be induced to use remedies while there is any hope. It is the delay in these cases that fills us with apprehension and alarm, for if every one would make timely application of DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE in the beginning of a cold or cough, few cases would go so far as to become irremediable.

Sold at the Doctor's great Medicine Store, No. 140 Wood street. WILL SHORTLY REMOVE TO HIS NEW STORE, NO. 16 LIBERTY STREET, SECOND DOOR FROM ST. CLAIR.

DR. KEYSER'S RESIDENT OFFICE FOR LUNG EXAMINATIONS AND THE TREATMENT OF OBSTINATE CHRONIC DISEASES, No. 130 PENN STREET, PITTSBURGH, PA. Office Hours from 9 A. M. until 4 P. M., and from 7 to 8 at night.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, January 20, 1869.

The gold market remained steady to-day, at 135⅝, opening at 135½, advancing to 135¾, and closing at 135⅝, with a limited business. Although the large imports of over five million dollars in gold per week would naturally have the effect of advancing the premium in gold, yet the daily disbursement for interest keep the market well supplied with cash gold, and prevent for the present at least any material advance.

In government bonds the market is firm with scarcely any fluctuations. Large speculative sales are made for future delivery, but the actual movement demand is light. In 1862 five-twenties a cornering operation is now going on which may prove successful since the amount of bonds on the market is limited to small lots; old 1865s are not much inquired for since shipments to Europe have nearly ceased, it being more profitable to send exchange. If business revives towards spring, lower quotations for bonds may be expected, as money will command better rates in the open market than bonds.

Stocks are strong, and every lot offered now is readily taken up; speculation is now centered on Fort Wayne, Michigan Southern, Reading and New York Central, whilst Erie and Ohio & Mississippi are apparently neglected to be taken up, however, in their turn. It is reported that the bull party now carrying all these stocks have one hundred million dollars at their command; against such a combination nothing can be done.

In Express stocks a lively time is now had; Adams jumped from 48 to 60; Merchants from 12¼ to 18¾, and so on. Western Union Telegraph stocks sold before the dividend at 36½, and sells now at the same, ex-dividend.

Our local stocks are also more inquired for, especially Columbia, which would bring near 19 after dividend. Allegheny Valley bonds are at present neglected. Connellsville Railroad bonds are offered in small lots occasionally, and are held above the views of buyers.

Money more inquired for, but business show no signs of improvement.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, January 22, 1869.

The market for both Crude and Refined continues firm and prices are fully sustained, though the volume of business was comparatively light. The most remarkable feature we have to notice is that, according to some reports to-day, Crude is worth more at Oil City than it is here. It was rumored that sales had been made there at $7,25 per barrel on cars, which is equal to eighteen and a half cents here; while, at the same time, seventeen cents was the best offer that could be obtained, and they were not very numerous at that. It was suggested that it would be a good idea to send a little up there, as it would pay fully as well as bringing from there here. It is but proper to remark, however, that we had it from good authority, that it could be bought there at $7. The late foreign circulars are nearly all decidedly "bullish." One of them (Arthur Brown's) reports that notwithstanding the largely increased shipments from the United States, the stocks in that market on the first of January, 1869, were 30 per cent. less than at the corresponding time in 1868, and the same circular insinuates, that what is true of that particular place, is equally applicable to the foreign markets generally.

CRUDE.

As already intimated, there was comparatively little done in Crude to-day, and the market seemed quiet, particularly for future deliveries, though prices are fully maintained. Seventeen cents was offered for spot or January, sellers option, but there were no sellers at that figure. We can report a sale of 2,000 bbls from date until June, seller, at 17; and we are cognizant of other offers to sell the same delivery at that figure without finding buyers.

REFINED

Was also rather quiet to-day, the volume of business being comparatively light, but the market is firm, nevertheless, and prices fully maintained. We can report 1,000 for Febuary at 35½; and 1,000 for March at 36. There was an order in the market, late in the afternoon, for 2,500 Febuary, buyer, at 35½, but no seller could be found. March to April quoted at 36½; Febuary and March, 36; April to June 37½; and April to December 38.

CLIPPINGS.

THE total number of school districts in Minnesota is 2,353, an increase of 146 during the year. The school population, between the ages of five and twenty-one years, is 129,103, consisting of 66,394 males, and 62,709 females; of whom 81,696 have been in attendance upon the schools during the past year.

A NEW TOY.—A late number of the Continental Gazette publishes the following paragraph: "The fashionable and drawing room pastime of the present hour is called the Grimakisticope. It is a box containing all the celebrities of the day, unto the features of whom any visitor can with a touch impart any expression he likes, from the most awful grimaces that ever added ugliness to a monkey to the sweetest ever dreampt of by the Madonna des Roses."

MISS SARAH PARKER REMOND, the lady of color who tried to make a disturbance at the American Legation some years ago, because the American law did not then recognize her citizenship, and she could not obtain a passport, has been for some time "walking the hospitals" at Florence, in Italy, and, according to recent accounts, has just successfully passed the necessary examinations and received a diploma for midwifery, and commenced practice in that city.

THE California papers report that Durant was only "bluffing" in sending graders beyond Salt Lake, and claiming to be able to get from 100 to 200 miles west of the Lake with the Union Pacific track before the Central or California Pacific came up. They say he has now abandoned work west of Salt Lake, and that the California road will be completed up to that point by March, while the Union Pacific cannot get there before April. The head of the lake is therefore likely to be the point of junction.

GEN. GRANT AND THE SOUTH.—Gen. Carl Schurz, in his recent speech before the Legislature of Missouri, said that he had a talk with Gen. Grant at the army re-union in Chicago, in which Grant remarked, "We cannot go to them; they must come to us. But when they come as improved men, we should not repel them." This accords with the spirit in which Gen. Longstreet, and all other rebels who are governed by common sense, have been received by the Republican party, and is, in fact, only reciprocating the intelligence and the patriotism they themselves exhibit.

A CALIFORNIA MILLIONAIRE.—A letter from San Francisco, speaking of the richness of the White Pine mining district in Nevada, says there is now in that city a middle aged man, who, a year since, was at work by the month as a mechanic and not worth a dollar. To-day he is worth at least $1,000,000 in hard coin, and his income from one m ne alone in White Pine is over $1,500 per day. He is investing his money in real estate in San Francisco. The other day a friend was joking him on the subject of marriage, remarking that he could now marry any young lady in San Francisco, to which he replied: "Well, I know a gal out West who was willing to marry me when I hadn't a cent, and now I'm able, I'm going to marry her."

THE INDIAN BUREAU.—The question of transferring the Indian Bureau from the Interior Department, with a view of making it a separate department, was discussed by the Senate Indian Committee. It was finally agreed that the chairman should propose a bill taking the Indian Bureau out of the Interior, and making it a separate bureau like the Agricultural Bureau. It was further agreed that there should be two general superintendents—one on the Pacific slope, and the other on the Atlantic slope, whose duty it shall be to have charge of all the other Indian agents, visiting the same and examining into all the affairs of the Indian Department of their respective districts, and to correct all abuses, &c. It was also agreed that whenever any one of the tribes become involved in war with the Government, the said tribe should be handed over to the War Department, to be dealt with by the military authorities, and as soon as hostilities cease, the tribe to be handed over again to the Indian Bureau.

REPUBLICANISM IN SPAIN.—Prof. Stowe, of Hartford, has been in Spain for some weeks since the late revolution there, and the Hartford Courant publishes an interesting account of his observations and impressions. Prof. Stowe says the anti-monarchical sentiment is aggressive and making converts daily, and that Barcelona, Malaga and Cadiz are as democratic as Boston, Hartford and Cincinnati. At any rate, all Spain is agreed that the Bourbons shall never rule the country again. The religious future of the country is very hopeful, and already there is practical freedom in religious matters, and Protestant and Jewish churches are being erected in great numbers. Prof. Stowe had abundant opportunity of observing the leaders of the revolution, and describes Prim as a short, wiry man, with a singularly handsome face, and small, white hand, strikingly recalling those early portraits of the first Napoleon, taken before he became Emperor and fat. It is plain to be seen everywhere that Prim is the popular idol.

Advices from China, per Steamer.

By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, January 20.—China.—The Yang Chow affair has been settled satisfactorily. The local authorities in power at the date of the outrage have been dismissed and the indemnity for losses sustained by missionaries paid. A proclamation, issued by Chinese authority, was extensively promulgated, setting forth that the treaty requires that religious establishments shall not be annoyed or foreign travelers treated disrespectfully, under heavy penalty. The missionary party has been invited back, including female members, and formally reinstated. The ringleaders of the plot have been severely punished by fines and banishment.

Mining operations at Chetoo were successful. Some valuable mines had been discovered. A party of Americans continue work, and express no fear of the Mandarin soldiery.

Major General Beunker had assumed the Lieutenant Governorship of the colony at Hong Kong.

T. T. Meadows, British Consul at New Chong, died suddenly.

The English gunboat Rinaldo sailed for Formosa with the object of settling the recent difficulty at that port.

Manilla advices state the people of the Phillipine Islands generally favor the new government of Spain. No declaration was made by the Governor General, but a full account of the late events in Spain, published in the official Gazette, is regarded as a tacit acknowledgment of his sympathy with the revolutionists.

The weather in China is cold. The navigation of the principal rirer was over for the season.

The United States Minister at Hankow caused the local government to issue a proclamation forbidding the Chinese to molest missionaries.

The Chinese newspapers contain editorials on the subject of emigration and colonization in Lower California, which is opened to the Chinese on liberal terms.

The shock of an earthquake was felt at Manilla November 22d.

The exportation of Coolies from Macoa to Callao is forbidden, in consequence of cruelties perpetrated upon Chinese laborers in Peru.

Crows—Their Use and Abuse.

A writer in the last number of Hearth and Home gives some information in regard to crows, which we quote:

There is, however, much to be said for, as well as against the crow, and though the evidence be sufficient to condemn him in one locality, or at a particular season, it does not necessarily follow that he should be condemned in all places, and at all times.

The crow is, by his anatomy and physiology, about as omniverous as any bird can well be, and we find him appropriating almost any kind of feed, whether animal or vegetable, that he finds. At this season he leads a somewhat precarious life in the interior. At times he picks up kernels of corn, or other grain on the roads, or scratches over the manure-heaps; occasionally he breakfasts on a frozen carcass, and very likely he will get bold enough, or hungry enough to attack small living prey. He has been known to carry off stray chickens, and to rob the nest of smaller birds of eggs or young. Most of the crows, however, seek the sea-shore in winter, and there live luxuriously upon shell fish, crabs, sea urchins, and the like, which are thrown up by the waves. In very severe weather, they frequent the floating blocks of ice in the open channels, and pick up what they can find drifting in the water. It is not uncommon to see them engaged thus, in great numbers, about the harbor of New York.

As Spring opens they gradually go Northward, and to the interior, and by the middle of March, in the more Southern parts of the country, or by the 1st of April in the more Northern, they begin to make arrangements for raising a family. To this end, they select as secure sights for their nests as the country affords, usually preferring the shelter of the dense branches of tall evergreen trees. While building their nests, and during incubation, they are extremely watchful and jealous of all intruders, while, in going to and from their nests, they are unusually silent. The nest is large, and usually composed externally of sticks, pieces of bark, moss, &c., and lined with horse hair, wool, and other soft materials. There are generally four eggs, pale green, and more or less blotched with brawnish olive.

During early spring, they are positively beneficial, their food consisting largely of insects. For these they visit newly ploughed fields, manure droppings, fallen leaves, etc. But they are most useful in destroying immense numbers of young grasshoppers, which abound as soon as the snow leaves the ground. In search of these, they visit pasture lands and meadows, usually in small flocks, for greater safety; for even when thus engaged they are not safe from the farmer's gun. A little later, their real crimes commence. They have a special fondness for corn, not only scratching it up from new planted fields, but, at a later day, pulling it up by the blades and devouring the grain. Even at this time they consume many kinds of destructive larvae. If allowed their own way, however, there would be very little corn left. Even now, in spite of all devices to drive him away or destroy him, great loss frequently is occasioned by his depredations.

Farmers naturally forget (if they ever knew it) all the good work done by the crow in the spring, and wage war on the "black thieves." But the marauders are specially vigilant at this season, and have their sentinels out on the tall trees. Their quickness in distinguishing a person with a gun is proverbial among sportsmen, and their knowledge of the power and range of fire arms is quite as remarkable. But this knowledge has been acquired only by sad experience, for in localities where they are rarely hunted, as, for instance, along the sea-coasts of Maine and the British Provinces, where little or no corn is grown, and where their food is derived from the sea, they are as little suspicious of man as most other birds, and may be as readily shot.

Generous Donation.

Among the deeds left at the Recorder's office lately, is one made by Mr. William Woolslayer, of the Sixteenth ward, to the following promiuent citizens: A. B. Boal, Enoch Phillips, R. H. Smith, J. B. Meanor and Samuel McElroy, in trust for the purpose of establishing a Presbyterian church in this neighborhood. It is a lot eighty by one hundred and thirty-seven feet, and is located on Pearl street in the Bloomfield district of the above ward. The Board of Trustees appointed by Mr. Woolslayer intend erecting upon it a handsome church building, and allow it to be used by all denominations until such a time may arrive when they will be able to establish a permanent Presbyterian congregation, when they will then transfer the same to any duly elected Board of Trustees of such organization.

This is a very handsome present and reflects much credit upon the liberality of Mr. Woolslayer, who is the oldest and wealthiest citizen of the Sixteenth ward. All who are acquainted with the wants of this fast increasing part of the ward will at once see the importance of this gift.

The Board intend providing accommodations in the church building for a large Mission Sabbath School, which is now being held in a large room in a private house, which numbers every Sabbath from one hundred and fifty to two hundred scholars.

There is also going to be erected near the church building a very fine public school house, which, when completed, will compare very favorably with any in the city. These, with other improvements the energetic citizens of this ward contemplate making, will make it a very attractive ward.

The ward is so located that every variety of scenery can be found, from fine flat to rolling mountain, and cool ravines can be enjoyed.

a Bankrupt under the Act of Congress of March 2d, 1867, having applied for a Discharge from all his debts, and other claims provable under said Act, by order of the Court, notice is hereby given to all persons who have proved their debts, and other persons interested, to appear on the 28TH DAY OF JANUARY, 1869, at 10 o'clock A. CITY AND SUBURBAN.

G. A. R.—Post No. 3 meets this evening at Morris Hall, corner of Wood street and Sixth avenue.

Academy of Music.—Rev J. F. Lovering will preach at this place to-morrow morning and evening, as may be seen in our advertisement under the head of Religious Services.

Y. M. C. A. Monthly Meeting.—The regular monthly meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held in their Rooms, No. 23 Fifth avenue, this (Saturday) evening at half-past seven o'clock.

Held For Trial.—Henry Goldstein, who was arrested on a charge of larceny, on oath of Harris Samuels, had a hearing before the Mayor yesterday and was held to bail in the sum of $500 for his appearance at Court.

Dr. A. C. Murdoch carried off the elegant gold headed cane contested for by several physicians at the Orphans' Fair. He received 1,560 votes over his highest competitor. The contest realized about $1,200 for the orphans.

Velocipede.—A very fine Velocipede is on exhibition in the window of E. Houston & Son's merchant tailoring establishment, corner of Fifth avenue and Cherry alley. It attracts much attention, being a novelty in this section.

A fashionable den of iniquity on Fifth street extension is about to figure in the Courts. We hear that a number of first class gentlemen, who have visited the den of fair but frail damsels, will be subpœnaed as witnesses.

Finally Committed.—John Barnes, the man who was arrested for attempting to rob a mail car at the Union Depot, had a hearing before United States Commissioner Gamble, on Wednesday afternoon, at the conclusion of which he was finally committed for trial.

School of Design Exhibition.—The fourth annual exhibition of the Pittsburgh School of Design for Women will be held at the rooms, corner of Sixth avenue and Wood street, on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday next, from 10 A. M. to 10 P. M. The exposition of art will be well worthy a visit.

Earthquake in Pittsburgh.—It is stated, on good authority, that several distinct shocks of an earthquake were felt in the old Ninth ward, on Thursday evening last, at seven o'clock. The buildings in the neighborhood of Penn and Clymer streets were shaken to their foundations, and, for a time, much alarm was felt by the residents.

Southern orders for iron, glass and steel have commenced to flow in upon the manufacturers, slightly reviving trade and giving hopes for better times. A prominent iron house received its first order from the South, since the opening of the rebellion, on Tuesday last. During the past week several Southern merchants were in the city and made heavy purchases of glassware to supply their trade.

We acknowledge an invitation to be present at a grand Purim Ball, to be given under the auspices of Jericho Lodge No. 44, I. O. B. B., for the benefit of widows and orphans, at Lafayette Hall on February 25th. It will be one of the grandest affairs of the season, as the gentlemen having the arrangements in charge represent our best circles of society, and will leave nothing undone to secure the enjoyment of invited guests.

County Printer.

The following note from our worthy friend Mr. W. H. McCleary, Clerk of the County Commissioners, fully explains itself and is quite gratifying to ourselves:

COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE, ALLEGHENY CO., Pittsburgh, January 22d, 1869.

To the Editors and Proprietors of the Pittsburgh Gazette:

GENTLEMEN: At a meeting of the County Commissioners, held this day, your paper was duly elected one of the County Printers for the year 1869.

By order of the County Commissioners,
[Attest] WM. H. McCLEARY, Cl'k.

Smoke.

We live in a smoky atmosphere and most of our people smoke cigars or meerschaum pipes, and no wonder they do, since such a splendid assortment of tobacco, cigars, pipes, tubes and general goods in the line, graces the shelves and cases of the popular wholesale and retail tobacco store of John Megraw, No. 45 Ninth street, late Hand street. Here will be found all that could be desired in the tobacco branch of trade, of the most acceptable qualities and at most reasonable prices. Dealers who buy to to sell again and retail patrons should favor this house with a large share of their patronage.

A Delicate Job.

Every day passers-by are astonished at the freedom and ease with which the workmen engaged in removing the scaffolding around the Cathedral spire seem to carry on their work at a heighth which makes even those below dizzy to glance upward at. The job is one requiring great care and nerve in its execution, but the workmen having it in charge seem to think it a common affair and step around on parts of the scaffolding scarcely large enough to afford a foothold with as much ease and confidence as those upon the solid ground. The work thus far has progressed without accident and if the weather continues favorable will be finished in a short time.

The Alleged Larceny Case.

We gave the particulars yesterday of an alleged larceny in Allegheny, in which the victim refused to prosecute. Subsequently he appeared before Mayor Drum, gave his name as John Ross and made information against Dennis Divine, charging him with the offense in substance as stated yesterday. The police, after a long and tiresome search, succeeded in arresting Divine at a store in Pittsburgh, where he was employed. When taken to the Mayor's office he stoutly denied the charge, but Ross made oath identifying the money found upon him, which was also identified by the landlady of the boarding house, and several persons who saw it in the hands of Ross. After the hearing Divine was committed for trial in default of bail.

Spirited Away.

August Rolan, a boy about seventeen years of age, mysteriously disappeared on Tuesday afternoon, since when nothing has been heard of him. It appears that Rolan, who was an emigrant "runner" for Adam Bushing, corner of O'Hara and Liberty streets, was recently arrested and committed to jail on a charge of disorderly conduct for a term of ten days. During the time he was in jail he heard a conversation relative to the character of a lady who had been committed to answer a charge of bigamy, which he, it appears, understood to refer to the step-daughter of the woman with whom he was acquainted. As soon as he was released, which was on Monday, he repaired to the house of his acquaintance, the young lady referred to, and related what he had heard in jail concerning her, and rumor says that the girl's father took offense at the boy and beat him unmercifully, after which he locked him in the cellar, where he kept him until Tuesday afternoon. Some say that he never came out of the cellar, while others insist that they saw him on the street Tuesday evening. The man who is accused of abusing and spiriting away the boy states that he came to his house on Monday and remained of his own will until Tuesday afternoon, when he departed. The matter is undergoing investigation.

ALLEGHENY FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Visit of Inspection—The Condition of the Department—What it Needs—What is Proposed—Testing the Fire Alarm, &c.

In accordance with the call of the Chairman, Mr. John Megraw, the members of the Committee on Engines, of the Allegheny Councils, assembled yesterday afternoon, at City Hall, for the purpose of making a tour of inspection of the Fire Department. The Committee, accompanied by Chief Engineer Crow, Superintendent McCandless, and the representatives of the press, started on their rounds at two o'clock, in a conveyance provided for their accommodation.

The first place visited was the office of the

FIRE ALARM TELEGRAPH,

Located on the third floor of the City Buildings. Under the direction and guidance of Superintendent McCandless, a thorough examination of the batteries, gongs, wires, &c., &c., in the office was made, and the line found to be in excellent working order, answering every test applied in the most satisfactory manner. When first constructed there was attached to the striking gong in this central office a second apparatus or "repeater," which was intended to repeat every alarm, thus avoiding any possible mistake. The "repeater," however, never seemed to work well, and after several tests was abandoned. It still remains in the office, but the contractors who built the telegraph have signified their willingness to exchange it for a new one, guaranteed to perform the work properly, or return the money paid for it. No disposition of the apparatus has been made as yet, but it is probable that the Committee will accept the first offer of the contractors. The line is at present liable to be thrown out of order entirely, should an accident occur to any part of it. With a proper "repeater," however, this would not be the case, that portion of the line broken only being for the time useless. The advantages of a good "repeater" are thus easily seen.

The duties of the Superintendent would be lessened considerably, if the line, as originally constructed, could be made to work well. The Committee, after satisfying themselves in regard to the Alarm Telegraph, next proceeded to the house of the Steam Fire Engine Company, at the foot of Marion avenue, in the First ward, and spent some time in an examination of the premises. The engine was in good working order and ready for action. The Company own three horses, two of which are first class animals. The other, though a good horse, is rather old for the service, and should be replaced by a younger and more active animal. They were all in good condition, and gave evidence of care in keeping.

In examining the house it was found that the Company were deficient in sleeping accomodations for the members staying during the night. At least five new banks are needed, with appropriate fittings. The Committee made a note of this want and intend providing for it as soon as possible. The Committee were also of the opinion that the house used by the Company was located in an unsuitable place. Situated at the foot of a steep grade, it is a hard matter sometimes, when a fire occurs in the upper part of town, to get the Engine moved out. By moving up a square or two level ground could be obtained, which would answer the purpose much better than the present lot used. This lot could be sold very readily, and would probably bring a sufficient amount to make the proposed improvement. The matter will receive the attention of the Committee again. The Company are somewhat dissatisfied with their engine on account of its great size and weight. At a meeting held on Wednesday evening a resolution was passed asking Councils to sell the machine and procure a smaller and lighter one.

The Committee next proceeded to the

COLUMBIA

Hose, Hook and Ladder Company's quarters, corner of Sandusky and Lacock streets, where they found sufficient to occupy their attention for some time. The house is altogether too contracted for the purpose, and has been a source of considerable annoyance to the members on that account. In the lower room the hose carriage, truck, horses, hose, some hay, etc., are placed, and as a consequence, the place is very greatly crowded. Up stairs, however, more room is given and things are in good order. The sleeping accommodations here were found to be much more ample, but the bedding needs replenishing, a fact which was noted by the Committee. The place is clean and, as far as circumstances will admit, kept in good order. A short time ago the city purchased a small brick building in the rear of this engine house, which they intend to remodel and convert into a stable and hose tower. When this is accomplished the Company will be amply provided for. Everything about the place, so far as the Company are concerned, was found to be satisfactory, and the Committee withdrew to the headquarters of the

GENERAL GRANT

Steam Fire Engine Company on East lane, Third ward. Here the same complaint reached them of the smallnesss of the building used. The company badly need a stable for the horses, which are now crowded in the same room with the engine and hose carriage. A vacant lot in the rear of the house has been offered them at a reasonable figure. The Committee made an examination of the premises, but gave no opinion in regard to the matter. This Company is better supplied with hose than any other in the city. The hose carriage is rather old, but strong and firm, and good for a number of years yet. Everything about the place was in order, and the accommodation for the members was all that could be desired. The only trouble seemed to be in regard to the size of the house, a difficulty which will be remedied at the earliest practicable moment.

The Committee next proceeded to the house occupied by the

ELLSWORTH

Hose Company, on Third street. Everything at this place was all right. The building is a new one and fully meets the wants of the company. The only article needed here is a change of hose, which the Committee made a note of and which will be supplied. The carriage and stock were in good order, and the company seemed ready for action at any time.

Passing from this place, the next visited was the

FRIENDSHIP,

Also a hose company, located at the corner of Beaver and Jackson streets, Second ward. The only deficiency here was in the sleeping accommodations, which will be remedied. Everything about the place was neat and shining, and displayed energy and care on the part of the members. The buildings are sufficiently large for all ordinary purposes, and answer well. There will be an additional room placed at the disposal of this Company, after the vacation of the second floor in April next by the family now occupying it. If a steamer is to be placed in the upper part of town it seems to us that this would be the proper location and would be duly appreciated by property holders. The last establishment visited was that of the

GOOD WILL

Hose Company, on Juniata street, Sixth ward. This is but a comparatively new company, but has proved its efficiency in many an emergency. They at present occupy a temporary structure erected, we believe, mostly at their own expense. Their carriage and stock presented a trim and neat appearance, an evidence of care in keeping. The quarters at present occupied by the Company are inadequate for the purpose, but Councils have taken this matter in charge. A lot on the corner of Franklin and Manhattan streets has been purchased at a cost of $1,900, and the plans for a new building to be erected thereon are now in the hands of the architects. The building will be of brick, three stories high, with stone front, and when finished will be equal to any Engine house in either city. It will be placed under contract as soon as the plans are ready and pushed forward to completion as rapidly as possible.

THE FINAL TEST.

The Committee after having thus thoroughly inspected the department, noted its wants, listened to suggestions, and become fully acquainted with the condition of the work under their charge for the ensuing year, started on the return trip. While coming up Ohio avenue it was suggested as a final test that an alarm be given, and the result noted for future reference. Acting on this suggestion an alarm was given from box No. 14 at the corner of Ohio avenue and Bidwell street. In three and a half minutes after the alarm was given the Friendship Hose Carriage made its appearance on the ground, followed in a few minutes thereafter by every engine and hose carriage in the department, the whole transaction occupying less than ten minutes throughout.

The General Grant Engine, located the farthest away, in the extreme eastern part of the town, arrived in nine minutes on the ground all ready for work. In giving this instance we mean no invidious comments, but simply wish to show the efficiency of the department. All the companies in proportion did as well, and the final test, whatever opinions the previous inspection had impressed the Committee with, satisfied them completely in regard to the merits of the department.

After witnessing the result of this final test the Committee returned to City Hall, having been over three hours on the trip. On the whole it was throughout one of the most satisfactory and gratifying character, and repaid the attention bestowed upon it, not only by the Committee but all other visitors who were there by invitation, and who thus had an opportunity of examining and becoming intimately acquainted with one of the most important interests of the city.

THE COURTS.

District Court—Judge Kirkpatrick.

FRIDAY, January 22.—In the case of Gardner & Schleiter vs. J. Y. Smith, action to recover on a book account, previously reported, the jury returned a verdict for defendant.

Owners of steamboat "Fair Play" vs. Barr, Johnston & Co. Action on book account. The jury found for plaintiffs in the sum of $408.68.

J. & D. Schlegel vs. J. S. Smith. Action for damages alleged to have been sustained by the illegal and false arrest and imprisonment of the plaintiffs. The jury was withdrawn and judgment of non-suit entered.

Court of Quarter Sessions—Judge Mellon.

FRIDAY, January 22.—On the opening of Court, Mr. Marshall made the closing argument in the felonious and aggravated assault and battery cases, reported on trial yesterday, after which the Court delivered an able and lengthy charge. The jury retired at eleven o'clock.

NOT GUILTY.

Hugh M'Hugh, indicted for assault and battery, Ellen King, prosecutrix, was next placed on trial. The parties reside at Butcher's Run, and, it appears, are occupants of the same house. A difficulty arose between them relative to the use of a portion of the house, and the prosecutrix alleges that the defendant had struck her with his fist. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty and directed that the prosecutrix pay the costs.

PLEAD GUILTY.

Andrew Finnefrog and John Kelley, indicted for larceny, were arranged for trial and plead guilty. They were remanded to jail for sentence.

CONVICTED OF LARCENY.

Nicholas Bennett, against whom there were four indictments for larceny, was placed on trial in the case in which R. B. Brockett was prosecutor, and plead not guilty. The prosecutor alleged that the defendant had stolen a coat from him. The coat, which was found in possession of the defendent when arrested, was produced in Court, and was identified by the prosecutor as his coat. The jury returned a verdict of guilty without leaving the box.

He was then placed upon trial on the remaining indictments, in which A. Lynch, J. H. Moore, and M. Sweeny, appeared as prosecuting witnesses. The former alleged that the defendant had stolen two razors from him, Moore stated that he had stolen a coat and pair of pants from him, and Sweeny, which was an indictment for larceny by bailee, alleged that Bennett had obtained from him a silver watch, which he refused to return. The defendant was found guilty on all of the three charges.

The prisoner was called up for sentence and the Court asked him if he could give any explanation of his conduct. He denied taking the goods with the intention of stealing them. Judge Mellon thought he was a bad man to run at large in a community where the people made their living by labor.

The Court then sentenced the prisoner to undergo an imprisonment in the western penitentiary of one year and three months for each of two of the charges of which he was convicted, and stated that if he conducted himself properly, on his release he might escape punishment on the others.

MISDEMEANOR.

Frank Golligle, indicted for a violation of the act of Assembly for the protection of livery stable keepers, H. B. Miller prosecutor, was placed on trial. The prosecutor, who keeps a livery stable in Birmingham, alleged that the defendant hired a horse and buggy from him for the purpose of attending a funeral at St. Mary's cemetery, and that by the carelessness of defendant, the buggy was broken. On trial.

Common Pleas—Judge Sterrett.

FRIDAY, January 22.—In the case of Kim and Lang vs. Blood, previously roported, the jury found for plaintiffs in the sum of $685.90.

De Knight et. al. vs. Scott. Action for damages. The defendant was the owner of the towboat "Hero" and, it is alleged, contracted with the plaintiffs to tow several barges of oil from Smith's Ferry to this city, and while on the water one of the barges was snagged and sunk and the oil damaged. On trial.

Musical Publications Received.

We have received from the well known music dealer, Mr. Charles C. Mellor, No 81 Wood street, a musical almanac for 1869. It is carefully compiled, comprehensive and artistically arranged. It is designed for the use of seminaries, professors of music, amateurs and the musical public generally, and contains an exhaustive catalogue of all the latest and best publications of sheet music. The almanac will be furnished gratis on application by mail or at the store.

We have also received the January number of Mellor's Musical Mirror, which is exceedingly attractive, containing a vast amount of interesting musical miscellany. Send for a specimen copy to the publisher, 81 Wood street.

We have received from Messrs. Barr, Knake & Buettler, the extensive music dealers and publishers, a copy of the "Fairy Bells," a spirited instrumental composition for the piano, composed by Fred. Herz and dedicated to Prof. Herman T. Knake. It should have wide sale, as it is a very fine contribution to musical literature.

Holtzheimer receives daily by express the primest oysters to be obtained, and serves them up in the highest style of art. At the Continental Dining Rooms, next door to the Postoffice, meals are served at all hours, which far surpass first class hotel bills of fare, and cost much less. Try Holtzheimer once and you will always patronize him.

The Stevenson Jewelry Robbery—Capture of the Thief and Recovery of a Portion of the Goods.

Some four or five weeks since, we published an account of the robbery of Stevenson's jewelry store, Liberty street, by a man who came in the establishment early in the morning when there was no one in but the boy, and upon the pretence of wanting to purchase a bill of jewelry, had a number of articles placed upon the counter for inspection, and while looking over them, managed to take, unobserved, about five hundred dollars worth of goods. The boy did not discover the robbery until some minutes after the thief had departed, and, consequently, he effected his escape. A description of the man who had stolen the goods was given to the police, but none of them knew anything about him. A few days after the transaction, Mr. J. J. Cook, detective officer at New Castle, was in the city, and hearing of the robbery called upon Mr. Stevenson, who described the man who had stolen the goods, and at once stated that he thought he knew the man. At the suggestion of officer Cook, Mr. Stevenson made information before Alderman Butler, charging John Jonns with larceny. Johns, it is alleged, is a professional thief, and one of the most successful in this section of the country. His operations have been generally about New Castle, and although he has been arrested several times prior to this, he has always managed to escape from the officers, and consequently has never been brought to justice.

A warrant was issued for his arrest and placed in the hands of officer Cook, who immediately went to work on the case. A few days after receiving the warrant he found a gold watch and heavy seal ring, which had been purchased from Johns by Mr. James Pollock, of New Castle. The goods filled the description of a portion of those stolen from Mr. Stevenson, and this confirmed the suspicions of the officer and fully satisfied him that Johns was the man. Having discovered who the thief was, his work was only half done as he had yet to capture him, which, considering the man he had to deal with and the fact of his having several days start of him, was a big undertaking.

Learning that Johns had gone west he followed him to Rock Island, Illinois, and on arriving there found that his man had gone east several days before. He returned to New Castle, in which vicinity Johns' wife resided, and on Wednesday morning, seeing that lady take the cars for Middlesex, Mercer county the evening previous, he followed her. Thursday evening he captured Johns about six miles east of Middlesex and brought him to this city. After a hearing before Alderman Butler, he was committed to jail for trial in default of bail for his appearance at Court.

A Pittsburgher Abroad and in Trouble.

If an item, clipped from the Cincinnati Gazette of Thursday, be true, a person who claims to be a citizen of Pittsburgh has been acting in a manner not at all calculated to increase the respect in which the corporation should be held abroad. The item is to the effect that a certain Henry Bradford, who claims Pittsburgh as his home, is under arrest in Covington upon the charge of stealing a horse and buggy, the property of Samuel Moreland, livery stable keeper on Madison street, between Fifth and Sixth streets. On Monday last Bradford called at Mr. Moreland's stable, and stated that he wished to hire a horse and buggy to go out on the Lexington turnpike a few miles to the residence of a Mr. Stephens, at the same time presenting to Mr. Moreland a note, purporting to come from Mr. John Hall, proprietor of the Black Bear Tavern in Cincinnati. This note recommended Bradford as an honest man, &c., and added that he wished to hire a horse and buggy for a short trip. Upon the strength of the note a horse and buggy were hired to Bradford, and he started off up Madison street. After he had gone a short distance, Detective Butts, who happened to come along, told Moreland that he had better follow the fellow, as he believed he was a rascal and intended to steal the horse and buggy. Moreland took the advice and followed Bradford, who, instead of going out the Lexington turnpike, went to the Main street ferry, where he was overtaken. In explanation of his strange conduct he said he was going over to Cincinnati for the purpose of getting a friend to go with him on his trip. Moreland ordered him to drive back to the stable, and for fear he would get away, put a Mr. Singleton in the buggy with him. Near the corner of Third and Madison streets, Bradford leaped out of the buggy and ran off. Singleton pursued, shouting "stop thief" at the top of his voice. Before Bradford reached the Covington and Cincinnati bridge he ran smack into the arms of the City Marshal, who escorted him to jail. Mr. Moreland has since ascertained that the note which Bradford presented him was a forgery.

Wylie Street and Centre Avenue.

A walk through these prominent streets will disclose "To Let," "To Let," on numerous houses, even out to the Thirteenth ward. Why is this? Is the supply greater than the demand? Are houses "to let" in large numbers throughout our two cities? Were it so, tenants would rejoice and landlords would frown. But we think it is not true to so great an extent on all our streets. We have heard persons say they cannot get "rents" in more favorable localities. People are removing from these streets to Allegheny and into the country, where the means of conveyance are better and cheaper than here. They find they can go further and be better suited at less expense than on these streets, and this is a great consideration with one who keeps a carriage—still more to one who does not. Rents therefore on these streets should be lower than on other streets, where there is good, frequent and cheap conveyance.

Property holders should see to this and protect their own interests. Five hundred dollars invested in a good railway, even if it should pay no dividend, will pay well in higher rents. Any person would gladly pay thirty dollars more for a four or five hundred dollar house, with easy means of access, than without it. Property in these localities should be proportionably lower than elsewhere. No man will willingly pay the same rent for a house which he can approach only with difficulty and expense that he will for one he can reach easily and without expense. But a well-managed railway on these streets will pay now and still better every year, becoming in a few years a very profitable investment. Let land and house owners see to this.

Tapping a Till.

Yesterday morning a young lad named Goldberg, "tapped" the till of Mr. Samuel Fletcher's butcher stand, in the Allegheny market, while the attention of the proprietor was attracted in a different direction. Mr. Fletcher had noticed the boy leaning on the stand a few minutes before the money was taken, and upon making the discovery of his loss he immediately started in pursuit. The boy had secreted himself in the Diamond Weigh-house, but upon the approach of his pursuer in that direction he attempted to escape. After a smart chase of several squares, he was secured, and upon being searched a five dollar bill was found in his pocket. He acknowledged to the stealing of ten dollars, and stated that the other five dollars had been thrown away at a point which he indicated, and where the money was subsequently found. He stoutly maintained that he had spent none of the money, and had only taken the two bills. Mr. Fletcher after recovering his money refused to enter prosecution, and the boy, who is about twelve years of age, was accordingly discharged.

Arrest of an Alleged Incendiary.

About three o'clock yesterday morning smoke was discovered issuing from the door and windows of the hat and cap store of Mr. John Zeller, Penn street, near Walnut, by George Hines, a butcher, residing in the Fifteenth ward, while on his way to Market. Mr. Hines aroused a gentleman residing in an adjoining building, and the two broke open the door for the purpose of ascertaining the cause of the smoke and extinguish the fire should there be one. They found a fire burning slowly in the shelving immediately behind the door, which indicated that the building had been set on fire, as it could not have caught in that locality from accident. The two men procured the hose belonging to a store near by, and succeeded in extinguishing the flames. Meantime an alarm had been struck from box No. 46, and the fire department were on the ground. It was fortunate that they were, for after the fire in the shelving was put out smoke was found coming up through the floor, and on investigation a number of old barrels were found piled together in the back part of the cellar, among which a fire had been kindled and they were burning rapidly. A stream of water was turned on the fire and it was soon extinguished.

The circumstances were such as to lead to lead to the belief that the proprietor was the incendiary, and he was arrested by officers Cupples and Woodbridge and conveyed to the lock-up, where he remained until last evening, when, after a hearing, he was held to bail in one thousand dollars for his appearance at Court. Fire Marshal Murphy, Chief Engineer Hare, and the officers of the insurance companies directed an investigation of the matter.
